Dr. William M. Cash

The staff of the 1988 Broom takes great pride in dedicating this year's annual to Dr. William M. Cash. Dr. Cash has been a member of the Delta State University faculty for 26 years and currently serves as Professor of History and Chairman of the Department of History.

During his tenure at DSU, Dr. Cash has established a reputation as a master teacher, fair administrator, and friend of the many students who have come under his tutelage. More than that, however, he has been a friend to all who have sought his help and guidance, always anxious to go the extra step to help a student achieve and learn.

The uniqueness of Dr. Cash's contributions centers around his unselfish attitude. The remarks of some of his students describe the affection with which he is held:

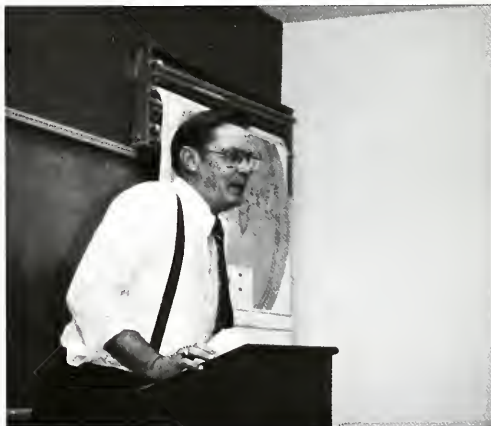

"He is always helpful but never expects anything in return."

"He teaches not only from books, but from the heart as well."

"Along with history, he teaches you great lessons of life."

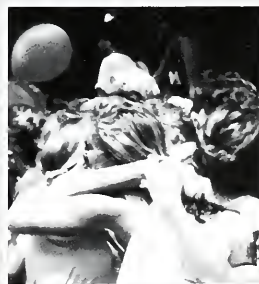

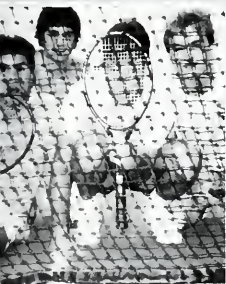

"He always wants the best for his students, and encourages them to do their best."

Dr. Cash mirrors the spirit and character of Delta State University. For these reasons and countless others, we extend to him our thanks and appreciation through this dedication.

COLLEGE CUISINE

Nuked, raw, stale, or synthetic, whatever's handy will do — and nutrition is no object . . .

So what does it mean if you wake up in the morning craving popcorn left over from the night before? Probably nothing, unless you also lunch on a bowl of black olives and dine on cold canned soup. Then it means something. You're either a member of a bizarre religious cult that considers heartburn a spiritually enriching experience, or you're a University student. College is a four-year feast of freedom. There's no parent-type around to say, "Eat pizza two nights in a row and your face will look like slab of deep dish with pepperoni," or "You'll ruin your dinner if you eat one more four-pack of pudding." Students cast aside the four basic food groups with reckless abandon similar to that of a freshman on his first trip to the bookstore. For most college students, their peers are binging on popcorn, nachos, cold cereal, yogurt, generic macaroni and cheese, and counting down the days until they receive their next home-cooked meal.

Ramesses — Watermelon Cut

Ramesses the Great Exhibition was shown this year in Memphis for five months. Ramesses is a collection of over 70 treasures associated with the life of great pharaoh Ramesses II. Visitor response to the exhibition was very positive, and it received favorable reviews by art critics and news media alike.

The Annual Watermelon Cut was held this summer on July 2, 1987. Students enrolled in summer school classes were dismissed from class to attend this event held on the quad. Everyone enjoyed a relaxing and fun-filled afternoon.

Fall Fest

FALL IS IN THE AIR
It's cool, it's great,
Let's all celebrate,
Let our hair down,
Go out on the town
For a blast that's got class.
It's that super tradition,
That gala rendition
Of fun at its best,
D.S.U. FALL FEST!

On September 1, 1987, D.S.U. students and people from surrounding communities assembled on the quad for an exciting Fall Fest. The evening began with a picnic, and later the crowd was entertained by the band XYZ and the Steve Azar Band. It was a fun evening for everyone.

• The Importance of Being Earnest •

The Delta Playhouse of Delta State University presented Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" October 7-9. Set in the late 19th Century, the play concerned the activities of an upper class British gentleman who has invented an imaginary younger brother in a scheme to lead a double life. Dr. Ted Soloman, professor of speech, directed the very delightful play.

Homecoming '87

The 1987 homecoming court (From l to r) Mellany Rayburn of Southaven, Cheryl Patrick of Bastrop, LA; Spring Heflin of Merigold; Queen — Alicia White of Farrel; Renee Selby of Holcomb.

Alicia White of Farrel was named Homecoming Queen at Delta State University during halftime of the Statemen's football victory over Tennessee- Martin. Miss White is the daughter of McKinley and Ida White of Farrel. A senior majoring in computer information systems, Miss White is a member of the American Marketing Association, the Black Student Organization, and serves as treasurer of the Data Processing Management Association at Delta State. The Homecoming Queen and her court were chosen by student elections.

Lip Sync and Lily Golden

Dr. Lily Golden, a black Soviet Scientist, visited Delta State this fall. Dr. Golden toured the United States to gain a better insight into American culture while speaking to American citizens on Soviet life. She spoke to several groups on the Delta State campus and also attended a worship service in her honor presented by the BSO.

"The Lion in Winter," a James Goldman's play concerned the power struggles within a royal British family during the late 1100's. It was presented by the Delta Playhouse, Nov. 20-23. The play revolved around a conflict over the succession to the throne of Henry II during the Christmas season of 1183.

Why we come to DSU??
"The Barber of Seville"

Friendly environment of the campus, low student-teacher ratio, reasonable tuition, and strength of degree programs are the major reasons students choose to attend Delta State University, according to research done by the university.

The survey was conducted by the DSU Office of Institutional Research, which polled students in English 101 and English 090.

"These particular courses were selected because they are almost entirely comprised of first-time freshmen, the primary target of this survey," said Dr. John G. Thornell, Director of Institutional Research. "The survey form was administered during the first week of classes in an effort to insure that responses were based on judgments made prior to immersion into campus life," Thornell said.

The friendly environment associated with the DSU campus easily topped the list of factors, registering a 4.21 rating on a scale that ranged from 5 (Very Important) to 1 (Not Important). Low student-teacher ratio was second at 3.74, followed by tuition (3.49) and strength of degree programs (3.46). Also scoring above 3 (Moderately Important) was the close location of the campus to the student's home.

Other highly related factors were the influence of a Delta State student, availability of scholarships, contact with the DSU Admissions Office, parental influence, and the influence of a DSU graduate.

"In general, the results of the study match the philosophy of the University," Thornell said. "The leadership of Delta State has long maintained the importance of cordial, personal and helpful relations with students. In addition, Delta State has always put a higher percentage of available funds into classroom instruction, which permits us to have a very favorable student-teacher ratio and helps keep the tuition the lowest of any state university."

Thornell said the emphasis on instruction also helped the University achieve national accreditation for a very high percentage of its academic programs, a factor the survey indicated was very important to the students.

The National Opera Company, a professional troupe which presents opera in the English language, will perform Gioacchino Rossini's "The Barber of Seville" at 7 p.m., Friday, Jan. 29, in Broom Auditorium on the Delta State University campus.

The performance, sponsored by the Crosstie Arts Council and the Special Programs Committee of Delta State University, will be funded in part through a grant from the Mississippi Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Rossini, the principal Italian composer during the early 19th century, reflects his gift for melody and his feeling for stage effect in "The Barber of Seville," generally considered his masterpiece. The opera is often mentioned with Mozart's "Figaro" and Verdi's "Falstaff" as the best examples of Italian comic opera.

Since 1948, the National Opera Company has performed well-known operas in English in 36 states. The Company operates under the philosophy that Americans will respond to opera when they can follow the subtleties of the plot, including the humor of the comedies and the sadness of the tragedies.

Most Beautiful Pageant

Pam Morgan, a sophomore from Holcomb, was named "Most Beautiful" at Delta State University, winning the title over 44 other contestants in the annual DSU Beauty Pageant.

Dr. Joe C. Greever, professor of chemistry at Delta State University, recently was named winner of the S. E. Kossman Award, presented annually to the person selected the outstanding faculty member at the Cleveland, Miss., institution. Greever, who has been at DSU 12 years, was selected by an awards committee that received nominations from faculty, students, and alumni of Delta State. The $2,500 cash award honors the late S. E. Kossman, a Cleveland civic and business leader, who was a major supporter of the university. Greever is a native of Tahlaquah, Okla., where he graduated from high school in 1962. He received his baccalaureate degree from the University of Arkansas. Prior to joining DSU, he was a graduate assistant instructor at Arkansas and was on the faculty of Ouachita Baptist College in Ouachita, Ark., and Drury College in Springfield, Mo.

"The sabbatical will provide a unique opportunity for me to work with a former student who has gone on to become one of the leaders in academic medicine," Outlaw said.

"Such an opportunity as this provides an important way for faculty development to take place," Outlaw said. "Through such experiences, we are able to keep in touch with the mainstream of scientific movement and progress, and to establish contact with major universities outside our area." Outlaw will also visit Duke University and North Carolina State University.

"The opportunities I will have during my leave will provide a tremendous academic and cultural experience that I will be able to pass on to students in my classes at Delta State," Outlaw said.

Harden, a native of Amory and 1970 chemistry graduate of DSU, has been Chairman of the Department of Pharmacology at UNC since 1977. He is a specialist in the neurosciences and biochemical control mechanisms at the membrane level of normal and cancer cells.

The former quarterback at DSU has a continuing research grant from the American Heart Association and recently served as a visiting professor of pharmacology in the United Kingdom.

Toward the end of his leave, Outlaw will go to the University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn., where he will be a scholar-in-residence for three weeks. While there, he will engage in a study involving the School of Theology and the Department of Chemistry to examine the ethical questions pertaining to genetic engineering and some of the more recent discoveries in molecular psychology.

Dr. Henry E. Outlaw, chairman of the Department of Physical Sciences at Delta State University will be on leave of absence from DSU for the fall semester to work and study at the University of North Carolina School of Medicine in Chapel Hill, N.C.

During his sabbatical, Outlaw will be associated with the School's Lineberger Cancer Research Center and its Department of Pharmacology, which is headed by Dr. T. Kenall Harden, one of Outlaw's former students at DSU.

TERRY EVERETT

Everett, who was selected to participate in the limited enrollment session on the basis of a manuscript of poems he submitted, studied two weeks with poet/novelist Dave Smith.

While at Bennington, Everett met more than 30 prize-winning authors, including Henry Taylor, Annie Dilliard, Tobias Wolff, and Richard Ford, who participated as visiting writers. The fulltime staff included Carole Oles, Elizabeth Cox, Blanche Boyd, Jon Manchip White, and Alan Cheuse, acting director of the workshop.

Everett said Smith and the 11 other members of his "Poetry Police" seminar gave him intense criticism of his work.

"I've come back with 17 bleeding poems," Everett said, "but that's what I went for. I now take my poetry more seriously than before. I learned to be harder on myself, and now I hope to have a book out in a couple of years."

"It was the experience of my writing life," Everett continued. "We were given mornings and sometimes all day to write and revise, I worked hard; I heard 24 writers read and attended every post-reading party. On top of all that I had the opportunity to spend some enlightening hours with a good friend, the great writer Richard Ford."

Everett said the experience would help him become a better teacher of writing as well as a more constructive critic of his own student's work.

Terry Everett, assistant professor of English at Delta State University, recently completed a two-week seminar at the Internationally known Bennington Writing Workshop in Bennington, VT.

DAVID CAUDILL

By winning statewide recognition for his talent as a musical composer David Caudill of Cleveland renews hope that artists and musicians of outstanding caliber will sooner or later receive the attention they deserve.

Caudill, 47 and a professor of music at Delta State University, was chosen by the Mississippi Institute of Arts and Letters to receive the organization's highest award for musical composition. Each year the non-profit institute recognizes four Mississippians for their contributions to the fields of music, literature, photography, and visual art.

The music instructor's winning composition, judged by conductor/arranger Eric Knight of New York City, is titled "Five Sacred Choral Pieces."

For Caudill, in addition to a $1,000 prize, the award means finally gaining more than just local attention and appreciation for his music. For years he has been called on locally for his talents as a musical composer.

Delta State faculty and students have often performed his choral and instrumental compositions. Many local church congregations, as well, have been inspired by his works which put the Psalms to music. Recognition by the Mississippi Institute of Arts and Letters, and the resulting public accolade, came on May 27 when Caudill was honored for his achievements at an awards ceremony in Oxford.

"I was very excited," Caudill said of the recent award. "I felt humbled and then very grateful that I'd received such an honor."

Asked if the award would render any changes in his musical life, he responded, "Well, I hope that it will help my career. But I intend to keep on working hard just as I was before."

"I don't see any immediate changes. But I'm hopeful that it will certainly help my efforts."

Other composers nominated included Paul Davis of Meridian, Frank Frost of Mississippi Delta, Paul Overstreet of Vandevale, David Thomas Roberts of Moss Point, and Carson Whitsett of Jackson.

"Grits? What is a grit?" "I have never been snipe hunting before — is it fun?" "I knew Mississippi would be flat, but I didn't believe that it would actually be this flat." "It's almost like being in a different country."

The minute that Kathy Chambers, Cathy Gillette, Gail Lavigueur, and

EXCHANGE STUDENTS

Laura Taylor start talking, you realize that they aren't from around these parts. With northern accents and a different way of life, these four girls from Westfield State College in Westfield, Massachusetts are going to learn a lot more than academics while here on exchange. And they will probably teach us something about ourselves in the process.

MARY ALICE CATES

Mary Alice Cates of Cleveland was elected President-Elect of the National Organization, American Association of State Counseling Boards at the annual meeting in Charleston, S.C. Mrs. Cates is Assistant Director of Counseling and Testing at Delta State University.

Appointed by Gov. Bill Allain to the Mississippi State Board, she has served as chairman of that board for the past two years.

The American Association of State Counseling Boards works in conjunction with other authoritative bodies which are legally responsible for the registration, certification and licensing of counselors. It also serves as a protective agent for the public in counseling matters and provides a forum for exchange of information and ideas among its member boards. The Association also recommends laws concerning counseling to the State Counseling Boards.

REAL WORLD 101

By the Senior year, one has been in school seventeen solid years. Sounds unbelievable, doesn't it? The School setting makes choices easy. The most difficult choices made were what classes to take and who to live with. But after turning the tassel, what next?

For some, marriage lies ahead, for others, grad school. For most, it will be time to see if the apron strings we have cut will be long enough to tie on to something else — a career.

Mr. Webster defines career as "a profession or occupation which one trains for and pursues as a lifework." For the past four years, we have been trained so that we could find our own lifework out in the "real world." No matter if that work be nursing, a CPA, a teacher, or a writer, we each have the duty to believe in ourselves and in those around us.

This poem by Amanda Bradley, found on a greeting card, sums up one senior's feelings.

"We all have our own separate pathways to take, our own destinations to choose. We all have our own contributions to make, our own special talents to use — We all have our own kind of life to pursue, our kind of dream to be weaving. . . And we all have the power to make wishes come true, as long as we keep on believing."

JEFF BOYETTE

Christmas holidays for most students mean rich food, gifts and giving, and family around the tree. For Jeff Boyette, this Christmas will be quite different. Jeff will spend his Christmas in Brazil, South America. Jeff is one of 150 students selected nationwide to serve as a Missionary to Brazil.

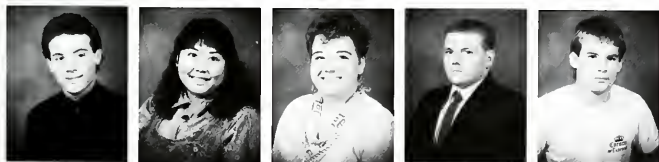

Jeff, a senior Speech Pathology major from Natchez, is not new to the mission field. He worked in California during the summer of 1986, and Colorado in 1987. His summers were filled with speaking, teaching vacation Bible school, conducting Bible studies, and working with children.

The students going on the trip were required to raise their own money — $1700. "The state of Mississippi gave me $700," Jeff stated, "the rest has to come from family, church, friends, and Christian businessmen in Natchez."

You may be wondering what motivates Jeff to take part in Mission trips. After all, most of us spend our summers working hard and playing harder.

"I was raised in a Christian home and accepted as a teenager," Jeff began, "there have been times of ups and downs, but there is a security in knowing that God is on my side. I have always loved kids, and it bothers me that Christian values are no longer a key in their upbringing. I want to share my experience with them and let them know that there's a better way."

FUDGE RECEIVES A ROTC AWARD

Michael Fudge, a Management major from Oxford, was awarded the Steve Richardson Award for an Outstanding ROTC Senior. Fudge was given the award on September 8th by the father of Steve Richardson.

Fudge won the award by meeting the criteria set up by those judges who choose the winner each year. It includes being a senior with ROTC grade point average of 3.5 and an overall GPA of 3.2. The winner must also be roccodo qualified which involves the advanced camp competition. He must be M16 qualified as well as having made at least 270 on the PT test.

The award is given each year in memory of Steve Richardson who was killed several years ago in a biking accident. Richardson was an outstanding ROTC officer about to receive his commission. At that time the award was set.

JIMMY JOHNSON

JOHNSON DONATES CARTOON COLLECTION

Jimmy Johnson, former political cartoonist for the Jackson Daily News, has donated the bulk of his original drawings from over a five-year period to Delta State University.

Johnson, 33, now lives at Pickwick Lake in Tennessee and draws the syndicated comic strip "Arlo and Janis." He left Jackson, Miss., and political cartooning to develop the strip.

A Lanett, Ala., native and Auburn University graduate in journalism, Johnson won the 1982 Robert Kennedy Journalism Award competition's second place for editorial cartooning. The same year, his cartoons were part of the editorial package on Mississippi education reform that won the Pulitzer Prize for The Clarion-Ledger.

The donation was welcomed by Dr. Sammy Cranford, professor of history and director of the Delta State Archives.

"The cartoons comment humorously and seriously on national and state issues, events and personalities from September, 1979, to July, 1984," Cranford said. "The collection has historical and artistic value and is open to researchers."

Johnson's decision to make Delta State the repository for his work is a result of his friendship with Gladys Castle, retired administrator.

Johnson worked as a reporter, copy editor and publications specialist for the School of Engineering at Auburn University before beginning his cartooning career. He is married to Rheta Grimsley Johnson, columnist for The Commercial Appeal and Scripps Howard News Service.

"I like Delta State," said Johnson, "and I like Gladys Castle. It's as simple as that."

LIFE UNDER PRESSURE

There exists for all of us, an essay. It is an essay of "no less than 1200 words." It is an essay which must be "type-written, double-spaced." An essay which must be "in my box by 5:00 p.m. Friday." An essay for which "there is no make-up assignment." Often, it is an essay which, despite our devoted and determined will, will not be written on time, will contain numerous typographical errors, and will find itself making a rather belated appearance on the following Monday. What happened? Where did we go astray? What obstacle stood in the way of our best laid plans?

Well, it all started with "I should be studying," which led to the "I've got this big paper to do," followed by the "I'm never going to get this done," and culminating in the now-famous "I'm going to have to pull an all-nighter."

And we just sit there at the desk. "I can't think. It's writer's block. If I could just write the first sentence — if I could just write the first word. Maybe . . . just maybe I — . . ."

And then we panic. "There just, I mean, there's just, I mean there's just no way I'm ever going to get this done. What am I going to do? Oh, dear me. Oh what am I going to do?"

Endless obscenities and "I can't take it anymore's" follow, and the scenario seems all too familiar. And while we sit and silently commit ourselves to the academic asylum for the educationally insane, we try to imagine that it's not our fault. Self-pity, curses on our professors, soul-searching. "Why am I here? What does it all mean? does anything really exist? I find myself only a small being in a . . . a . . . a . . . collegiate void." We ponder the meaning of life.

Despite coming up with an answer (and a sure shot at philosophical immortality) we cast it aside, and return to the task of trying to untangle the obvious to the oblivious. A good two hours have been completely erased, and the essay, completely untouched.

At 4:00 a.m., it is finished. Magnificent? No. Superior? Not really. Adequate? Maybe. Done? Yes, that's the word that I am looking for. Under the pressure, under the gun, and just under the wire, it's finished. We race to the class, (we slept through our first two, didn't we?) burst through the door and reach our seat, just in time to hear . . .

"And as you may have been posted outside my office, the paper due date has been extended until next Friday."

All at once, the proverbial drawing board comes to mind, and we have to laugh.

While a student at Delta State, Darryl Adams served as a resident assistant and a head resident. He graduated in 1984 and is now Assistant Dean of Student Affairs and Director of Men's Housing. Some of his duties include coordinating men's housing, discipline for male students, intramurals, and working with exchange programs. Mr. Adams is a man of many talents. He sings tenor in the Delta State Choral and loves gospel music. He also plays many instruments which include the piano, saxophone, flute, clarinet, and guitar.

Karate also plays an important part in Mr. Adams' life. He is a second degree black belt, and earned his first black belt certificate in 1982. He assists in teaching karate at the Cleveland Shotokan Club and is an active in the U.S. Karate team. Mr. Adams will be competing in a televised match in Las Vegas at Caesar's Palace on November 20, 21, 22.

Baptist Student Union

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION is the Christian witness of Southern Baptist in institutions of higher learning. The Baptist Student Union at Delta State was organized November 4, 1929. Since its beginning, three things have characterized Baptist Student Union. These characteristics are the Baptist Student Union is Christ centered, church related, and student led.

For several years following its organization, the Baptist Student Union at Delta State was carried on primarily by students with some assistance by Baptist faculty members and local pastors. The first Director of the Baptist Student Union at Delta State was Rev. Riley Munday who assumed this responsibility in 1946. Mr. Munday served until 1948 and was succeeded by Miss Dot Lee Jefferson, later to become Mrs. John Merrill, who served until 1949. Following Mrs. Merrill's resignation, Rev. Roy S. Isbell came to Delta State as BSU Director and served until 1951. In the fall of 1955, Rev. James A. Breland began his tenure as BSU Director and continues in that position in 1987.

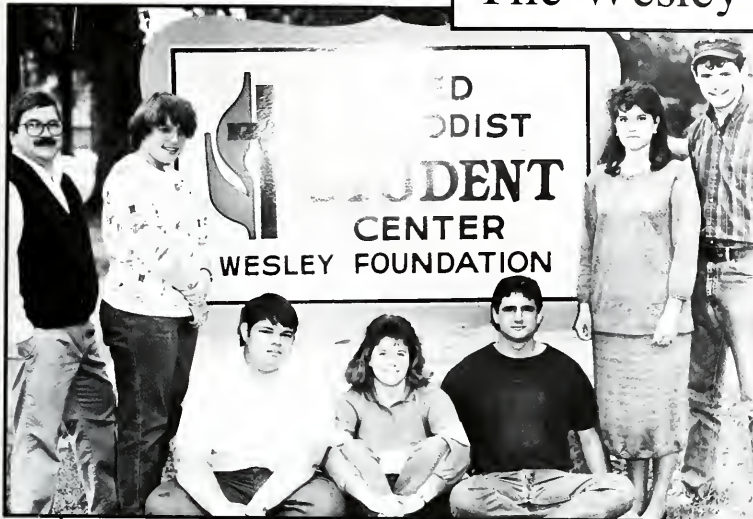

Until the summer of 1960, the Baptist Student Union conducted its program and the BSU Director had an office on campus in college facilities. In 1960, a large dwelling at 903 S. Court Street in Cleveland, which was purchased and renovated by the Mississippi Baptist Convention, was occupied as the Baptist Student Center. This building continued to be used until 1977 when it became inadequate. At that time, the building was removed and construction was begun on a beautiful and adequate Baptist Student Center which was occupied by the Baptist Student Union in April 1979.

Baptist Student Union emphasizes the INWARD JOURNEY of spiritual growth through Worship, Study Fellowship, Churchmanship, and Stewardship. It emphasizes the OUTWARD JOURNEY of Christian service through witness, Missions, Ministry, Social Action, and International students.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia began on October 6, 1898 with a get-acquainted party between the "Old Boys" and the "New Boys" at Boston's New England Conservatory. It has since grown to cover 234 chapters, and has become the third largest men's organization in the country. The Theta Upsilon Chapter, now the largest in the state, was founded in 1960 on the Delta State College campus. The chapter performs many services in the name of music such as the DSU/DMA Marching Festival, American Music Day Performances, and numerous fund-raising projects each year. Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia expects great things in the coming years as the chapter expands even more.

Delta Rangers

The Delta Rangers is an elite group of ROTC cadets. The Rangers are an exciting, challenging, demanding, rigorous, and tough organization.

The Delta Rangers participated last year in many activities. These included teaching the rappelling, air support (UH-1 Huey) FTX, one meeting monthly, and Ranger Challenge. Ranger Challenge is a one day event at Ft. Benning, GA (Home of the Rangers, Infantry, and the Airborne School). It is a competition among 15 universities of Alabama and Mississippi. Delta State was ranked number 5. Even though the Delta Ranger program is not even a year old, we have a reputation to uphold.

A member of the Delta Rangers has the right to wear the coveted black beret to distinguish him or her from other cadets.

Spring Heflin

Spring is a junior here at Delta State majoring in marketing and minoring in French and fashion merchandising. After graduation, she hopes to someday work for a major corporation in advertising or in some sort of marketing field.

Spring's talent revolves around dance. She began tap, ballet, and jazz dancing 7 years ago. Her most prevalent form of dance is clogging. She began clogging when she joined "Cleveland Cloggers" 4 years ago. Now she teaches the clogging class at DSU.

Spring's father, who has been a definite influence in her life, has taught physical education at DSU for 15 years. Spring quoted her father's most inspiring advice, "Always push to do your best. Don't be afraid to take the challenge." Spring has had the opportunity of experiencing many facets of DSU. She is the child of a faculty member, a Cleveland resident student, and now a teacher.

She has participated in many activities at DSU such as Delta Models, Pike calender girl, homecoming maid, and the Miss Mississippi USA pageant, which brought her to the top 10 and won her the Miss Amity award; an honor bestowed to the girl that made the best impression on the other contestants. Spring is also involved in ODE, SAA, RUF core group, and the American Marketing Assoc. Her favorite activity at DSU is being A Delta Diplomat, which is a group involved in recruiting and greeting newcomers. The group was started by Dean Riley and Wayne Blansett.

Spring's biggest goal as Miss Mississippi was to promote clogging in Mississippi. With this talent, she carried away a non-finalist award for talent.

In addition to Spring's activities on campus, she enjoys canoeing, kayaking, mountain climbing, modeling, cross stitching, and camping trips with her dad.

Her appreciation for the support from DSU, Phi Mu, the Cleveland community, and her family show in her eagerness to serve and help in any capacity that she is able. Spring wants to attend graduate school at Clemson, S.C., where she hopes to join a clogging team. She also wants to spend time traveling in France.

COACH JIM "RED" PARKER

Delta State University's football program has been under the "colorful" and spirited leadership of Jim "Red" Parker for the past six seasons. The 23-year veteran college coach has been successful wherever he has directed the football program. The Hampton, Arkansas, native whose background including head coaching stints at Fordyce, Ark., High School, Arkansas A&W, The Citadel, and Clemson, brought an exciting, inspiring brand of football with him to Delta State and a heart full of dedication.

He came to Delta State in December, 1981, after serving as head coach at Southern Arkansas University in 1981. He guided the SAU Muleriders to an 8-3 record and a 14th place ranking in the NAIA Division I poll. In his first year at the DSU helm, he guided the Statesmen to a 6-4 ledger in 1982, their first winning season since 1975. He was named "Coach of the Year" by the Jackson Daily News that fall for helping turn the DSU football program around. The Statesmen had managed only two wins the previous season.

Parker notched his 100th collegiate coaching win with a 35-3 victory over West Georgia College in the second game of the 1983 season. On September 5, 1987, Parker's Statesmen upset the Salukis of Southern Illinois. In the eyes of many who have followed DSU football, this was the school's biggest victory ever. Parker's career college coaching record is 127-107-8.

Parker earned the Bachelor's of Arts degree in Physical Education from Arkansas A&M in 1953. Prior to his graduation, he received three letters each in the sports of football, baseball, and track. Parker is a gifted and talented speaker, having been the guest at local and area civic clubs. He has served as a guest panelist at the Mississippi Association of Coaches annual meeting as well. He has been guest speaker at the Greenville, S.C., Touchdown Club since taking over at Delta State.

Parker is married to the former Betty Goggans of Rison, Ark., and they are the parents of three children — Mrs. Vicki Wallace, Mrs. Cindy Loos, and Jim Mack.

COACH DAVE "BOO" FERRISS

DELTA STATE'S FERRISS NAMED TO COACHES HALL OF GAME

CLEVELAND — Delta State University veteran baseball coach Dave "Boo" Ferriss and five others were inducted into the American Hall of Fame on January 9 in Atlanta, Georgia.

"This is certainly a proud moment, not just for me, but also for the baseball program at Delta State," Ferriss said on learning of his selection. "It is a tribute to all the fine young men I've been privileged to coach for 25 years. The years have been enjoyable and rewarding, and I am humbled to be included in this select group."

A 25-year coaching veteran Ferriss has compiled a 595-374-8 record, all at Delta State. He is the second "winningest" Division II baseball coach in the nation. He has directed DSU teams to the NCAA Division II playoffs in seven of the last 11 years, including three trips to the College World Series, where the Statesmen finished third, second, and third respectively in 1977, 1978, and 1982.

Gulf South Conference championships came in 1978, 1979, and 1985, with the Statesmen finishing second in 1981 and third in 1982. Ferriss also has earned several honors for his coaching accomplishments. Last year he received the United States Baseball Federation's Service Award for his contributions to the game.

He has been named NCAA Regional "Coach of the Year" three times while earning GSC coaching honors three times. In 1978 and 1982 he was selected as "College Baseball Coach of the Year" in Mississippi and was runner-up in that category in 1985.

Under his direction, 18 Statesmen players have earned All-American honors and 17 have continued their baseball careers on a professional level.

Ferriss, a graduate of Mississippi State, was signed by the Boston Red Sox after his junior year of college, and the lanky right-hander broke into professional baseball with Greensboro (N.C.) of the Piedmont League in 1942.

After military service, he joined the Boston Red Sox in 1945 and was named "Rookie of the Year" with a 21-10 record. He defeated each American League team the first time he faced them and his first two major league starts were winning shutouts.

In 1946, Ferriss was the American League's No. 1 pitcher with a 25-6 record and he pitched the Red Sox to a 4-0 win over the St. Louis Cardinals in the 1946 World Series. His major league record was 65-30, and he still holds several major league pitching standards.

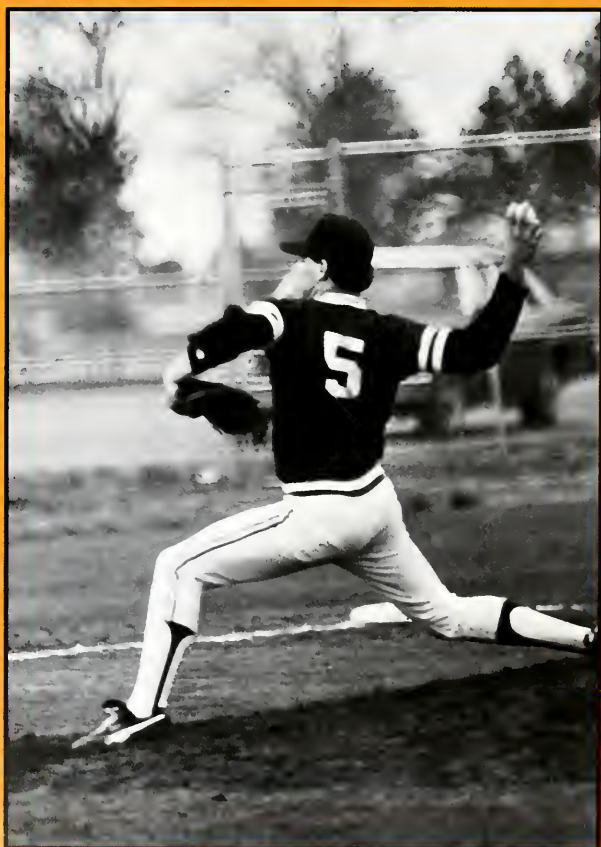

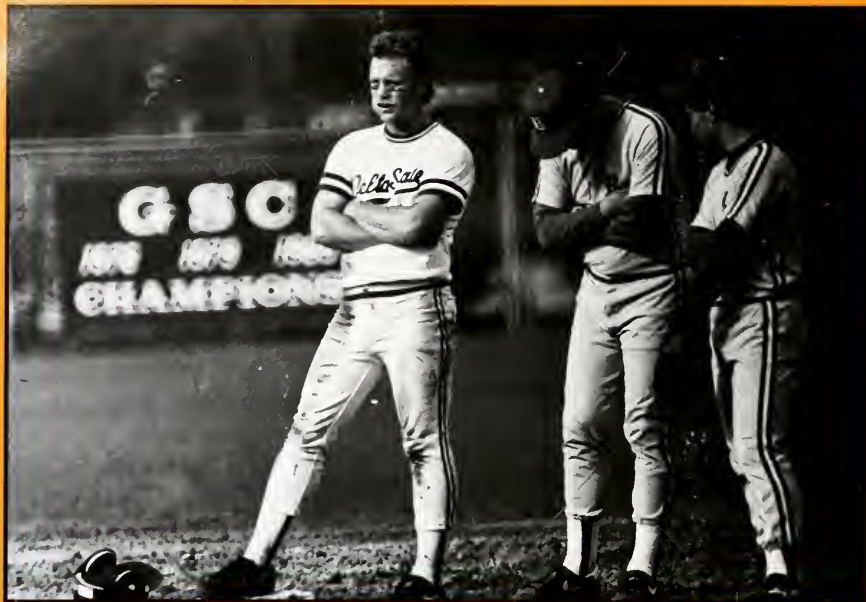

Following a career cut short by an arm injury, he served as Red Sox pitching coach for five seasons before coming to Delta State in 1959 as athletic director and baseball coach.

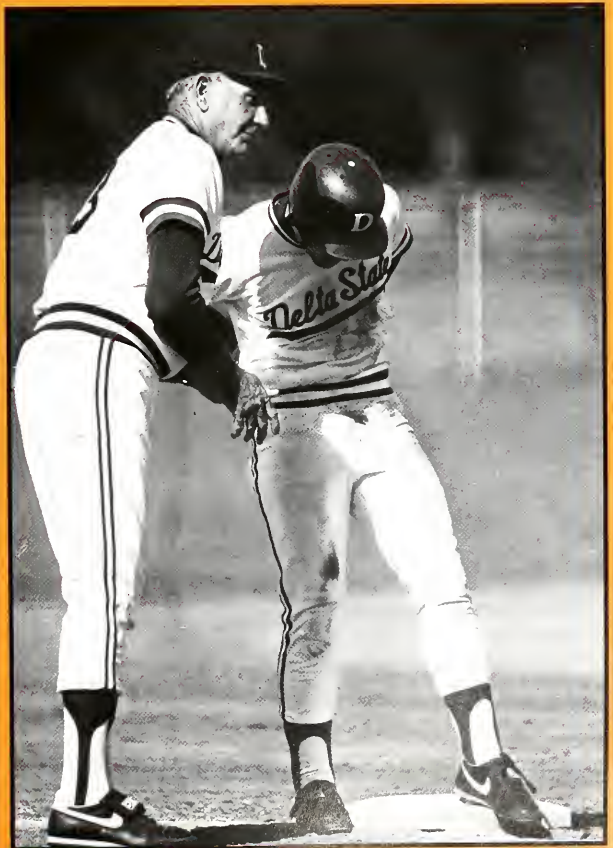

In early 1967, he left Delta State to become assistant athletic director at Mississippi State, but he returned some 18 months later as Director of the DSU Foundation, a position he held until his retirement this month (June 1987). He returned to baseball coaching duties in 1970.

Ferriss is a member of the Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame and the Mississippi State University Sports Hall of Fame. He was inducted into the Mississippi Semi-Pro Baseball Hall of Fame in 1981.

He is married to the former Miriam Izard of New Hebron and they are the parents of two children, Dr. David Ferriss of Denver, Colo., and Margaret Ferriss of Jackson.

FOUR STATESMEN SELECTED TO ALL-GULF SOUTH CONFERENCE TEAM; HOSTETLER IS ALL-AMERICAN.

Four members of Coach Dave "Boo" Ferriss' baseball team were named to the All-Gulf South Conference team. Catcher Scooter Tucker, designated hitter Mike Posey, pitcher Tom Hostetler, and left fielder Mike Kraft each earned overall and Western Division honors.

Tucker, a 6-2, 205-pound sophomore, is a repeater from the 1986 team. The former Greenville Washington School prepster batted .381 with eight home runs, eight doubles, two triples and 35 runs batted in to help the Statesmen to a 29-22 record and a second place finish in the GSC Western Division.

Posey led the team in hitting with a .391 mark, including five homers, 31 RBIs and a squad-leading 15 doubles. The 6-2, 195-pounder hails from Lancaster, Ohio and is also a sophomore.

Senior right-handed pitcher Tom Hostetler of Villa Park, Ill., compiled a 9-5 record, leading the conference in wins, innings pitched (99), and strikeouts (99). He also compiled a 2.55 earned run average, the highest among the staff regulars.

Kraft, a 6-2, 200-pound junior from Sunset Hills, Mo., hit .341 with a team-leading 9 homers and 43 RBIs. He was once named the conference Player of the Week for his outstanding performance against Mississippi College.

Kraft hit three homers in the second game of a double-header, two in one inning and drove in 8 runs in the contest. He added 10 doubles and tied Posey for the team lead in base hits with 61.

Hostetler was also named to the NCAA Division II All-American baseball team selected by the National Association of Baseball Coaches. He allowed only 42 bases on balls during his conference-leading 99 innings pitched and pitched four shutouts for the Statesmen. He also pitched 10 complete games. After being drafted by the Boston Red Sox after his 1985 season out of East Mississippi Junior College, he chose to sign with the San Francisco Giants and is currently playing with their 1A club.

In addition to these, Tom Shelton was voted the Statesmen's Most Valuable Player for 1987.

Jordan named Athletic Director

Dr. Jordan, his wife Sarah, Justin and Jayne

Former Delta State University defensive coordinator Jim Jordan of Fayetteville, Ark., was named athletic director on Sept. 3 by president Kent Wyatt. Jordan, whose appointment to the post was approved by the State College board, will assume duties Oct. 1.

Jordan joins the Delta State staff after having served as a Development Officer at the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville for the past 20 months.

"My number one priority is to support the coaches and make their jobs as easy for them as possible," Jordan said. "I also want to work with the alumni and Booster Club to develop all phases of the athletic program. My job is to keep them informed and get their support."

Jordan served four seasons (1982-85) as defensive coordinator and linebacker coach. Prior to that he was assistant director of the DSU Foundation.

The Charleston, S.C., native has an extensive college coaching background prior to coming to Delta State. He served as head football coach at Georgetown (Ky.) in 1978-79 and at Maryville College in Tennessee from 1974-77.

Jordan is a 1964 graduate of the University of South Carolina where he won varsity letters in football and track. He received the master's of education degree in physical education from the Appalachian State University in 1965 and the Doctor of Education from the University of Alabama in 1970.

He began his coaching career at Davidson College in 1968, serving as an assistant football coach for two seasons under Homer Smith.

Jordan also spent two years as head track and cross country coach at Austin Peay University (1970-71) before serving as head football coach at Bowling Green, Ky., High School in 1972. He was an assistant football coach at Carson-Newman College under Dal Shealy in 1973. Jordan also served two years as a graduate assistant at the University of Alabama.

A veteran of the United States Army, Jordan and his wife Sarah, are the parents of a son Justin and daughter Jayne.

GROWING UP
by

Mayer Oltremari

Thinking of my life and what will be
Stirs hopes and dreams inside of me
But it also brings new doubt and fears,
As they pass; those childhood years.

Thoughts of a little girl on her daddy's lap, or her thumb in her mouth taking a nap.
Or a giggling girl with a silly crush on her face, often finding a blush.

But I'm not a little girl anymore,
Soon I must face the future and what is in store.

What will my life mean to me?
Will I only wish what I could be?
Or will I be able to smile and say
"You lived your life in the best possible way."

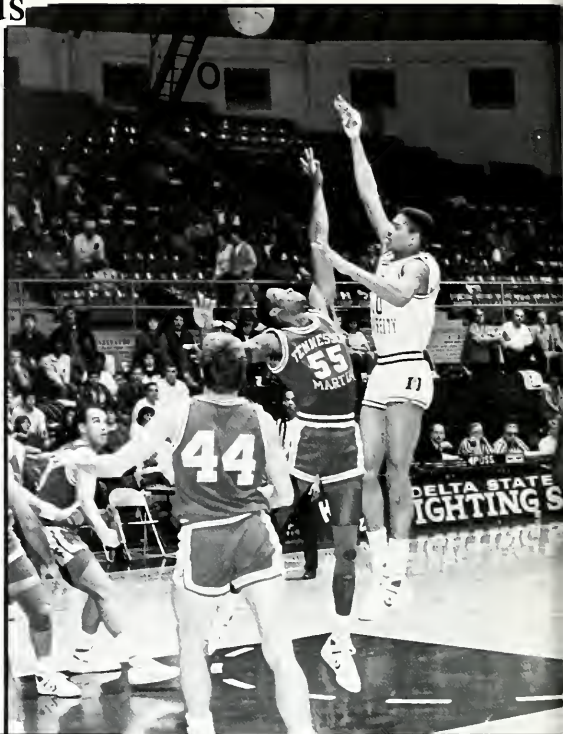

Thoughts go around in my mind.
One says, "Grow up and don't look behind."
But deep down in my heart I know the child I was is the part of me I will cherish in the years ahead
Even though I'll be grown up instead.

It's time to grow up and it's what I must go through,
But growing up is so very hard to do.

YOU KNOW US. WE KNOW YOU.

At our local Independent Bank . . .
you're not just a number . . . or just another deposit. You know us. We know you.
You're an important part of the community and our future.

At our local Independent Bank we understand the needs of the people in our community and work together to build a stronger future. We're proud to share in and be a part of what you do. We offer you the personal service that comes naturally from banking with people you know . . . and people who know you.

Bank the Independent Way. We roll out the red carpet for our customers . . .

Editor's Closing

Being editor of The Broom for the past two years has been one of the greatest joys in my life. I have had the pleasure of working with wonderful students, faculty, and staff at Delta State University.

My editors Maria, Leslie, Jenay, Debbie, Jo Ann, Andy, Jennifer, and Dana have given 110% and to them I am truly thankful. To the staff members, all of you have done a wonderful job and I am very appreciative of your hard work and dedication.

Special thanks goes to Mr. Leroy Morganti for always listening and helping me make my decisions. Thanks goes to Bill Powell, Mrs. Long, Jody, and Super Dave for helping me in every way.

To Casey, you have been the best friend a girl could ever ask for and I am very grateful to you. Thanks for your patience and always being there for me. You'll forever have a special place in my heart.

I hope you enjoy this yearbook as much as I have putting it together for you. I have loved being editor of The Broom and will always treasure my years here at Delta State University.

"To God be the Glory."

Thanks for a Fantastic year!

Sincerely,
Melissa Porter
Editor
1988 Broom
